tion or reward. Nobody expects or wants such natural action. To propose it would be an insult to the intelligence and honor of our people. When the rebellion was crushed the heresy of secession in every form and in every incident went down forever. It is a thing of the dead past. If I were president I would vote all legislation which might come before me providing for the consideration or payment of claims of any kind or losses by persons who were in rebellion, whether pardoned or not.

In relation to Union war claims the government's obligations to its defenders come first and are the most sacred of public debts.
Civilized nations do not in general recognize claims for injuries to property resulting from the operations of war. Nevertheless, our government has treated with great indignity the claims for losses and damages suffered by Union men from the operations of the war of the Union. But as hostilities were closed more than fifteen years ago, claims of that nature in the lands of brokers, or persons other than the original sufferers, are becoming stale and in my opinion might fairly be considered as barred by the lapse of time, and if hereafter entertained at all should be subjected to the severest scrutiny. Yours very truly, W. S. HANCOCK.

As fishing depends so much upon the state of the wind as to the catch, we commend the following as good advice:

When the wind is from the north;
The skillful fisherman goes not forth;
When the wind is from the east, Then you catch the very least;
When the wind is from the south,
It blows the bait into the fish's mouth;
But when the wind is from the west, Then it is the very best.

SPECIAL OFFER TO SUBSCRIBERS

We have completed arrangements with the publishers of the MINNESOTA FARMER whereby we can furnish that paper and the HERALD at the extraordinary low price of $1.65 per year. The Minnesota Farmer is a large eight page paper, containing forty-eight columns, published monthly, and filled with choice reading matter, having a Stacey Agricultural, Dairy, Sheep and Wool Poultry and Home department, with a large amount of miscellaneous matter, especially devoted to the varied interests of the new northwest. It is a paper worthy of the general support and patronage of the people of this section; and under our special arrangements we can offer it as a premium to every subscriber at the low price above.
This offer only applies to cash subscribers.

The days are gradually growing shorter.
Republican town caucus next Thursday and Democratic next Friday—take notice ye politicians.

Politics are beginning to get red-hot in our town especially around the threshing machines.

Hon. Henry Pochler of Henderson and Mr. Schaler of Young America were in town last Saturday.

Mr. H. Van Cleef is fixing up his residence very handsomely.

The teachers examination held here last Saturday was not so largely attended as anticipated, only 13 applicants were present. Supt. Geo. Mix's remarks on teaching were highly appreciated especially on that reading.

A sad accident occurred at Mr. Glatts place last Sunday evening. John Bielow shot a step-son of Mr. Grein of Laketown, aged 17 years.

Rumor has it that a new store will be opened here soon.

We have a new doctor. Mr. Van Krevelin, office at Hugo Volkman's building.
Henry Thelvet, of Belle Plaine, has hired a room in the Lake building for a new store.

Messrs. Lassen and Eiseline, are now crowded with business.
Our Mill is now crowded with work.

Ohio and Indiana.
State election occur in these two states next Tuesday Oct. 12. Both parties are doing their best in each of those states, and much excitement exists.

The republican party expects to carry both states, which the democratic party say they will carry Indiana and will give the republicans a close shave in Ohio.

Watertown Items.

Business is booming.
Our new mill draws customers from a distance of 18 miles, and makes excellent flour.

Halgren and Merriman's drug store is receiving several coats of paint inside and outside and will look elegant when completed.

Our village authorities commenced grading our streets, but suspended work before completing the "job." The general verdict is, that they are worse than ever.

Our fire department leave for Delano, to take part in the parade to day. They expect a good time.

AUCTION.

District Court.

The full term of Court convenes next Monday, Oct. 11th. The calendar is large and the term promises to be a long one.

Jury men and witnesses should be on hand promptly at 11 o'clock.

Religious Services.

Our Catholic friends held services in this place on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The large church was crowded with people from the country.

In Chaska Sept. 28th 1880, by Jas. F.
Dille, Esq., Gustav Hartmann to Miss. Andrea Klatt, all of this county.

Loss Settled.

The adjuster of the Continental Insurance Company of New York was in the City Saturday for the purpose of adjusting the loss of Mr. Christian Falk, for a stack of oats struck by lightning lately.

The loss has been satisfactorily settled and paid and we recommend our friends in the county to follow the example of Mr. Falk and insure in the old and reliable Continental Insurance Company represented in Chaska by our enterprising young townsmen M. H. Myres Esq.

Handsome Cake.

Mr. Herman Erren, donated a very large and handsome cake, to the Hook & Ladder Boys, after the Fair, out of which the boys realized over $5.00. They wish us to return their sincere thanks to Mr. Erren, for his handsome gift.

Sheriff DuToit, and Deputy Logelin, were both in the country this and last week, serving jury notices and subpoenaing witnesses for court next week. They completed their labors on Wednesday.

MARRIED.

At Chaska, Oct. 3rd 1880, by Peter H.
Dille, Justice of the Peace, Henry Sohns, to Miss Bertha Ott, all of this county.

OUR HOTELS.

Accident at Carver.

A son of Geo Bennett of Carver was badly hurt on Sunday last, while playing with some other boys, they were moving a flat car, Bennett boy being before the wheel fell and was caught, the wheel passing over the leg. Dr. Griffin is in charge of the case but we have not learned whether the leg will be saved or not.

Michael Ess, whose leg was amputated last week is now improving, and hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Out of Danger.

We are informed that the son of John Ess, whose foot was amputated last week on account of injuries received from the tumbling over of a threshing machine, is slowly recovering, and is now considered out of danger.

Threshing Machine Accidents.

The many accidents that have occurred in this county during the past few years, ought to be sufficient to induce the owners of threshing machines to comply with the law and cover the rod with a box. To neglect this is gross carelessness and subjects the owners of the machines to heavy damages in case of accidents, and to a penalty whether there are any accidents or not. It is certainly time something was done to put a stop to this criminal carelessness.

Court Room Improvements.

The improvements to the Court Room authorized by the County Commissioners at their last session are nearly completed, and will add greatly to the convenience and looks of the room. Some other improvements about the Court House are needed, and we presume that they will soon be made as the present board of commissioners seem willing to consider all proper measure whether they relate to the Court House or any county matter, although they are very careful with the county funds.

New steps are also being erected in front of the Court House, the old ones being deemed unsafe. Messrs. Enger and Hansen, are doing the work.

Club Meeting.

There was a good attendance at the Hancock Club last Friday evening, and ringing speeches were made by Col. Baxter and Judge Sargent. It is expected that W.
C. Odell and John Kerker, Esq., will address the club at its next meeting on Friday evening next. We hope there will be a good attendance.

H. & D. Cat Off.

Work on the Hastings and Dakota Cut Off is now progressing rapidly and the contractors claim that the road will be ready for the track before November first.
Much has been said about the location of stations along the line, but none have this far located, however, and no ground has been purchased or condemned for that purpose. There will undoubtedly be a station at Popitz, and perhaps one in Chanhassen.

Are you in want of a new winter suit?

If so go and get one at Streisguths.

Other Tail Country.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend Fred Damschen, of Otter Tail County. We are pleased to learn that he is prospering in his new home. His wheat averaged 20 bushels to the acre, and he threshed 962 bushels of wheat, 280 bushels of oats and 55 bushels of barley. He also informs us that he intends to build a Steam Saw Mill, in the town of Hufford, near Dave Parks store this fall, in company with his two brothers, from which we infer that Fritz is prospering.

CAUCUS.

Notice is hereby given to the qualified Democratic electors of the Town of Chaska, that a caucus will be held at the Concordia Hall on Friday the eighth day of October 1880, at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting 11 delegates to represent said town at the County Convention at Wacouia on Saturday the 9th inst.

Dated Chaska, Oct. 5th 1880.

Accidental Carelessness.

On Sunday evening another of the long list of accidents result from the careless use of fire arms terminated fatally in this Co.
On that evening Herman Hedtke and Ferdinand Bulow, and another young man were going along one of the roads in Laketown when the proposition was made by some of the party that a salute should be fired in front of the house of a lately married young couple. In attempting to carry out this programme a revolver carried by Ferdinand Bulow was accidentally discharged and the bullet lodged in the body of Herman Hedtke who lived only a few minutes after being shot. Hedtke at the time of his death was about 17 years of age. His companion who shot him is, we understand almost crazed at the result of his carelessness.

We understand that no inquest was held

View of Chaska.

H. Brosius, artist, of Madison, Wisconsin, is canvassing our city for the sale of a pencil picture of Chaska. It is a very accurate and beautiful "birds eye view" of Chaska, and costs only $1.50 per single copy. As it is the first work of the kind ever gotten up of Chaska, every citizen should subscribe for a copy for future reference.

CLOCKS & WATCHES.

I have just received a new stock of clocks and watches direct from the factory, which I am selling at the following extremely low prices.

Stem winder silver watches, warranted for one year, at $3. clocks at from $2 to $12 and warranted. Chains and other articles of jewelry at same low rates. Call at L. Diacon, 2nd St. Chaska.

We have a new advertisement to publish for Michael Hammer, manufacturer and dealer in Harness and Saddlery ware, Chaska. Mike is a wide awake dealer and is bound to keep up with the times.

NOTICE.

All persons desiring to join the Carver County Anti-Drive Well Association are requested to meet at the Washington House in this village on Saturday October 9th 1880 at 7 o'clock p. m.

By the payment of $2.00 any person can become a member and will have his rights secured to him through the State Association, which proposes to contest the claim Damages Settled.

Quite a number of farmers on the line of the Hastings and Dakota Cut Off, have settled for the right of way this week. As among the number who have already settled are Leonard Koehn, Andrew Manuel, E. Popitz, G. M. Powers, W. N. Fuller, Peter Raser, Martin Raser, Wm. Bongard and John Geiser.

Others will probably settle to-morrow and Saturday, and by Monday not over 10 or 12 cases remain for trial.

Mr. Andr. Holt, of the town of Dahlgreen, has entered the law office of Col.
Baxter, as a law student. He is a graduate of the State University and is a very able young man and will undoubtedly suc-

The tragic death, on the 3d inst., by purely accidental shooting—of Master

Herman H-dike, aged 17, has caused a deep feeling of gloom to spread over our entire community. The young man was both well known, and a great favorite with all, being of an amiable disposition, and

Funeral, on 6th inst., from W.onia Lu-h-eran Church, was largest held for many years. People of all denominations turned out, among whom were many Morav-ians. The well-nigh heartbroken m-the-

District Court.

The spring term of court commenced on Monday, all of the jurors answering to their names. The morning hours were occupied in hearing motions, &c., and on the assembling of the court in the afternoon the Judge charged the jury in his usual clear and able manner, and appointed

Hon. Eugene Bray, Foreman.

The Grand Jury completed their organization by electing Adam Hill, clerk.

A jury was empanelled on Tuesday morning in the case of John Tausak vs

Dennis Peters, in which the jury rendered a verdict for the defendant.

A jury was also empanelled in the case of the State of Minnesota vs Henry Gabel in, for assault and battery, in which they returned a verdict of "guilty."

A jury was also empanelled on Tuesday evening in the case of Mathias Eitz vs Geo.

Biechauer, and after a long trial, rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, placing his damage at $20.00.

A jury was empanelled Wednesday evening in the case of L. H. Griffin vs. the Minn. & St. Louis Railroad.

The Grand Jury came into court Tuesday, with an indictment against Albert

Koslosky, and also brought one into court

Wednesday against Edward Emmett, both persons being prisoners in our county jail.

The County Tickets.

The democratic county convention which met at Waconia last Saturday, did its work well, as will be seen by the nomination of Hon. W. H. Mills for Senator, and L. Strecker, for County auditor.

The republican convention could their duty by the nomination of the following gentlemen.

A. W. Tiffany Esq., for Senator and Jacob Truwe for Auditor. Hon. H. R.

Denny, received the nomination for the house in the Carver district.

Dr. Van Krevelin, of Waconia, a new resident of the county is the democratic nominee for Coroner. Dr. W. P. Cash, the present incumbent, is the republican nominee. We are not acquainted with Dr.

Krevelin and can say nothing of him personally. Dr. Cash is a young man, competent and well liked.

SOUTH CAROLINA CENSUS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Secretary Schurz this afternoon made public the report of Superintendent W. L. Ker of the census bureau, on the alleged census frauds of South Carolina. The General gives his reasons for believing the census of 1870 incorrect, attributing it mainly to defects of the law under which it was taken, that of 1870, and adds: "The investigation instituted places it beyond a doubt, first that the census of 1870 was grossly defective and, secondly, that the census of 1880 was substantially well taken. In no instance did anything appear which bore the semblance of fraud in the returns made to this office by the enumerators in 1870. In some districts nearly every family was identified as residents in the township, notwithstanding the great extent of South Carolina townships, some of which embrace one hundred and even two hundred square miles. In all cases identification was carried far enough to put it beyond doubt that fault of impossible ignorance reported over the census of 1870 by with the preceding enumeration. It appears to me that the report of Special Agent Garrett satisfactorily settles the question as to the fairness of the tenth census in South Carolina. General Walker, on concluding, says of the investigation: 'I know of no reason why any further charge should be made against the enumeration recently brought to a conclusion by the commissioners and sworn officers of the government in South Carolina. The presumption which existed against this work has been completely overthrown and a strong contrary presumption has been erected by verification upon ground of the schedule of inhabitants in these of fifty eight enumeration districts successfully taken for special investigation on account of their exceptionally questioned character.'

Lakotown Thoughts

The falling leaves of our Lakotown woods present a more eloquent and practical than ever before by Spitzgum, Tammes, or Henry Ward Beecher. We do well to give diligent heed to the solemn lessons which nature teaches us at this time of the year.

Result of Mr. election has only served, here, to still more close up the ranks of our republican phalanx, and they will present an unbroken phalanx at the November election polls. So mote it be!

William Mueseler has been appointed teacher of Dist. School (5 mos.) in the Gustoch district. John Gustoch is the director, and a school officer who does his own thinking.

Our town-men Henry Gerdesen and A. Kraake played a conspicuous part in late Co. Fair at Chaska, being on "committee to award premiums" for best display of cattle, sheep and hogs.

There is to be a right royal housewarming at Mr. Henry Lietz's completed mansion, some time during November. The company will be a select one, consisting only of the most intimate friends and relations. That a most happy and never-to-be-forgotten interesting occasion may be had is my pious wish.

A recent trip to Rice Co., this State, in company with the Rev. Mr. Somelman, developed the interesting fact that up to the 24th inst. the farmers had not even begun threshing, while in plowing they were far ahead of us. Section visited was Northfield township, and during a stay of about a week, a delightful time was had. Their corn is inferior to ours, and average yield of wheat to bushel will be only from 12 to 15 bushel. Their Pub. School houses surpass ours, as regards no, and architectural beauty. Natural scenery, too, was sublime, with an undulating prairie, and, beautifully interspersed with curiously formed knolls or hills. Rice Co. prairie-land, as contrasted with Hennepin Co., is far ahead in every respect. More interesting.

A Relief of the "Water Massacre." Washington Special to the Chicago Times. Gen. Crittenden has recovered the watch worn by his son, Lieut. Crittenden, when he fell with Custer. A short time ago the adjutant general of the army received a letter from a resident of Winnipeg, asking whether any officer bearing the name of Crittenden had taken part in the luckless expedition of Custer. The writer stated that he had purchased, some time ago, from a half breed, a gold watch, which the half breed told him he had obtained from one of the Sioux warriors who sought refuge in Canada after the massacre of the Little Big Horn. The watch bore the owner's name. The works had been tampered with by the Sioux from whom it was procured, and who assured the half-breed that he had slain the white brave to whom it belonged in the battle with Custer's men. The writer of the letter finally purchased the watch for $3. On examining it he found engraved in the case the name of a Liverpool maker and the number of the watch. Upon this he wrote a letter to the watchmaker, asking whether he could in any way identify the purchaser of the watch. The watchmaker promptly replied that he had sold, more than four years ago a watch bearing the number cited by his Canadian correspondent, to an American gentleman named Crittenden, who, as his books showed, had at the same time bought a lady's watch, as well. The kind Canadian who had taken all these pains to trace the ownership of the watch was rewarded by a prompt assurance that the watch undoubtedly belonged to Lieut. Crittenden, and it was thereupon immediately forwarded to the war department to be handed over to the representatives of that office.

Failling to make any political capital out of the genuine utterances of Gen. Hancock, the Republican papers, with characteristic liberality, have taken to connecting bogus ones. Gen. Hancock denounces as utterly unfounded the sentiments attributed to him in regard to the tariff, says he never saw the reporter of the paper which gave currency to them and his never spoken to any one on the subject. He also pronounces as bogus the published interview with him relative to Grant and the Fowler episode. Anything published in Republican papers purporting to come from Gen. Hancock should be taken with a great many grains of salt.

THE NIGHT BREEZE.

BY CHAR. M. LOGAN.

Whisper, faint and rhythmic floating indistinctly Sweet meanings of the night breeze of evening's Rounded, gently solemn, with unceasing, steady flow, Through the winter, the deadened branches and the My chamber, draped in darkness of a sun's departed My thoughts and fancies roaming with Eolus Through the trees
I sat in half-tossing in the shadows of the boughs, That danced in strangely concerted with the music of the breeze.

In weird, grotesque figures, from the first golden beam
I could trace the needless motions of an Eolian chorus,
Like the music of Eolus in her shimmering dream, Or the waving strains and murmurs of the lyre.
Now the music, solemn whistles had changed to chattering snells,
That rose and fell in heavy gusts around my chamber's door,
As if there funeral echoes from the tolling of the bell, Intermingled with the howling of the night winds within ear.

Like a velvet mantle o'er me lay the darkness and the gloom,
And all around me floated the sweet, melodious air,
As if I were vicarious of angels in the world, Whose voices were translated in a manner charged with rare
And heavenly music. My heart, my soul, no being lost their flight.
To join the music of the gods of fabled song, Coming down the chimney in the fluttering firelight.
The wind, the shadows, and the music were in harmonious throng.

I dreamed of bright visions, and I conjured in my mind
That I heard the songs of others in a world of straining Uniting gently, sweetly, with those of Orpheus and of Eolus.
So wonderful were in love and bliss that still I felt alive.
BY HERSCAL CAL.

THE FOLDED LEAF.

The light from two large lamps shed its soft, mellow radiance over the room, and contrasted strongly with the bright rays of the crescent moon that came in through the open window and lay in silver bars upon the carpeted floor.

That room was what is usually termed a "bachelor's den" was to be seen at a glance; but there was far more taste displayed in the arrangement of it than is usually met with in such quarters. It was a room of a gentleman, and it was a room of a gentleman.

A brief description of Charlie Knight will be sufficient, and we will give it as he sits at one of the windows, lazily smoking a cigar and cradling a small, yellow terrier that is asleep in a chair at his side.

His is not a face that would attract the attention of a casual observer, but a second glance would have revealed the unmistakable signs of temper, pride and unhappiness. Broad, high forehead, full lips and small, blue eyes, were all indications of a strong will and determination. His complexion was fair as a girl's, and there was a peculiar feminine cast about his countenance which, with his low, well-modulated voice, and his keeping with his lazy, indolent style; but there were well-defined lines of care upon his forehead and beneath his eyes which told that even thus early in life he had found that—

"There's a burden in life for every man's shoulder—A sorrow which all must bear, We may ease it in youth, but 'twill come when we're And fit as we close as the garment we wear."

Seated near him at table was a youth who, though he bears little or no resemblance to his brother, no two persons could be more opposite in looks, ideas and disposition. Yet between these two, despite the difference in their ages, there was a strong bond of sympathy and love, so often remarked between persons of directly opposite natures.

It need but one glance at the face of Walter Knight to know that he was totally without dissimulation, and that he petted from earliest childhood—not a desire of his, that was possible, but had been granted by indulgent parents, and now, at the age of 19, as a young man, he went forth into the world to battle with his reverses and disappointments, he was wholly unprepared to meet the stern realities of life.

As he sat at the table now, his head resting upon his hand, his handsome, boyish face was distorted by an angry frown, and occasionally he muttered some incoherent words as if in a dream, his heel into the carpet. At length he sprang up, and giving his chair a kick which sent it spinning into the further corner of the room, he began walking up and down the apartment with angry strides. His brother glanced up from his cigar with a half-amused, half-angry expression upon his countenance, at this sudden outburst, but said nothing, and length Walter threw himself into a chair near his brother, and exclaimed:

"Charlie, you are a brute!"

Charlie removed his cigar from his lips and blew forth a cloud of fragrant smoke that completely enveloped him, and as it slowly floated forth upon the night air, he laughed good-humoredly, and said:

"You are very complimentary, Walter, and I fully appreciate the delicacy with which it was passed, but I fear if any representatives of the brute creation were present they would hold you personally responsible for the insult to their race. Here's Jinks; wonder what he will think of it? But then he has associated with me so much that he has lost all self-respect, and considers himself no better than I am."

And, as he ceased speaking, he gave the dog's ear a pull that caused him to yelp with pain and annoyance.

"Just as good as I could have expected from you," exclaimed Walter, in disgust. "There you sit, staring with out of that window, knowing that I denied me this evening, and knowing that for me life has lost all brightness, and yet you do not say a word of sympathy to me, and when I tell you of what a brute you are, you must needs get off one of your cursed jokes."

"Because I do not talk to you about your disappointments, is that the reason that I do not sympathize with you? I believe, with Tennyson, that "There you go again with one of your poetical quotations. I believe you devote all your leisure moments to storing up such rubbish," exclaimed Walter, angrily.

"Yes, I plead guilty to the charge," replied Charlie, laughing, "for, like the man who brought the coffin to auction, 'they are good things to have on hand.' But seriously, Walter, did you care so very much for this girl?" And as he asked the question, his face assumed a grave look, and his mouthful expression went out of his eyes.

"Care for her!" exclaimed Walter, excitedly, "she is the only woman I can ever love. But what do you know of such love as mine? You, who care nothing for woman except to flirt with her for an hour, and forget her in five minutes afterward. Of course you will only laugh at me, and I was a fool to expect anything like sympathy from you."

Charlie did not immediately reply, but turned again to the window, and looked out into the night. The soft summer wind sighed through the branches of the tall oaks, as though ringing a requiem for the shattered hopes of the living and the souls of the dead. At length he tossed his unfinished cigar out of the window and, turning to his brother, said:

"Walter, you think me cold and selfish, and that it is impossible for me to appreciate your disappointment, because you believe I have never been similarly situated. All I want to say is a folded leaf in my life—a turneddown page that you have never read—as you are aware, for I always think I can find a more interesting topic for conversation, but, after hearing you assert so positively that you could never love any woman except Jennie B., I felt it my duty to unfold that hidden page to you—though to recall the past will be anything but pleasant to me, for "There are hours long departed which memory brings back."

Like the serpent of Eden to twist round my heart, As time settles by on the night,
They may vanish awhile, but never depart."

Walter looked up at his brother, and, as he noted the serious expression upon his usually-smiling countenance, the result, disappointed look upon his own face gave place to one of attention and interest. Charlie was silent for a few moments, as if recalling the past. At length he spoke in a calm, even tone of voice:

"It has not been very long since what I am about to relate occurred. Not long, if measured by months and years, but sometimes real or supposed sorrow comes time to go by on leaden wings, and so in this case,

"I had not been very long measuring the years that have lost; But I have been so long Counting the hours that are dead!

"I cannot now remember the first time I imagined myself in love, but I think it must have been far back in my juvenile days, and that from that time on I worshiped at a new shrine of beauty every few months, for, as you know, I have always been the reputation of being a fickle."

It was soon after my return from abroad that I first met Annie Everett, and a more self-conceited, egotistical person than I have since met. I had known her, and I had decided that it was about time for me to marry and settle down, and I was fool enough to think I had only to choose from among the circle of my acquaintances any one that might please my fancy, never for a moment supposing that they would think of degrading the honor I considered I would be doing the one on whom I bestowed my name. You may well smile, he said, as he caught the merry twinkle in his brother's eyes. "I am disgusted with myself whenever I think of that consummate fool I was at that period of my life."

"As I said before, I met Annie Everett, and, as I thought, fell in love with her at first sight. Her face was dark as a Spaniard's, hair and eyes to correspond, and form tall and stately; add to these a nature proud and selfish, a temper beyond her control, and a disposition that was obstinate, and you have a description of Annie as I recollect her. Of course I was blind to all her faults, and magnified her attractions—as attractions were, which all men must see. But I have been credulous to the point of hero of a modern literary production.

"Well, I had been acquainted with her but a few months when I told her, in my self-conceited way, and with a decided preference for her above other girls, and asked her to accept my hand and heart. She blushed and declined to give me a positive answer, but I attributed this to her extreme shyness, and left her presence that day feeling uncommonly well pleased with the world in general and myself in particular.

"Months passed on, and I did not allude to the subject except in a casual way, for I felt perfectly satisfied that her answer would be, and considered now, at the age of 19, as a young man,
alities of life.

and learn in what way I was connected with their conversation. I had not time to wait; in a moment he spoke again:
"But report says you are engaged to Charlie Knight, and his exclusive attention to you of late are sufficient grounds for such a rumor."

"Breathlessly I waited to hear Annie's reply. She laughed a low, mocking laugh, and replied:

"And would you hold me responsible for every absurd rumor that is started by maddening gossip? Have I not told you, only a few moments since, that you are the only one I ever loved? As for Charlie Knight, I will admit that I have al-loved him to make a great fool of himself in his attentions to me, but you know he bears the name of being a first-class flirt, and I thought I would teach him a lesson he would not soon forget, for I am satisfied the fellow really does care for me. But if you object I will bring the matter to an end."

"If that is the case, I have no objection to your continuing it as long as you like. Knight is a conceited puppy, and deserves just such treatment."

"How I longed that night! You know self-control is not one of the peculiarities of our family, and instinctively my hand sought a small pistol, which from force of habit I always carried, but in an instant I gained control of myself, and they walked away and returned to the room where the company were assembled."

"I will not tell you of the sleepless night I passed, or of the thousand and one curses I heaped upon the head of this woman, whom I considered the re-stroyer of my happiness. The next morning I wrote a short note to Annie, telling her to forget all I had ever said about loving her, as I had discovered that I was mistaken in supposing that I ever cared for her. During the day I sought out her companion of the evening previous, and accused him of using my name disparagingly, and when he told me I gave him the lie, and followed it up with a storm of epigrams and abuse that few men would have dared to have applied to themselves. Having thus relieved my feelings as far as possible, I went to work in a gloomy, morose life, forswore women, isolated myself from society, and, in fact, made myself as miserable as possible, and thus continued for a week, when accident, Ida Severn. She was an artist, and I had painted a portrait of her. I could paint a portrait of her. I had a perfect description of her would be as impossible as a perfect description of some hot-house cologne, whose goodness must be seen to be truly appreciated.

"Light and willowy of form, with indescribable grace in every movement and gesture, complexion fair as a lily, dark hair and eyes, and a smile that like a shade deeper than the crimson that tinted her cheeks, and constantly reminiscent of two twin roses, which she would have been, I think, the most perfect of her kind. Her face was perfect enough to have served as a model for a sculptor, and in each velvet row of small, even teeth, which seemed fitting-place for the god of love.

"All this I told on the occasion of our first meeting, and, as I became better acquainted with her, I learned to fully appreciate the many noble qualities that she possessed. Her mind was clear and vigilant, and she was a true friend. Her face was perfect enough to have served as a model for a sculptor, and in each velvet
fitting-place for the god of love.

"I visited her frequently and not her often away from home, and I learned that there was much congeniality between us. She was fond of books, had read considerably, and possessed the happy faculty of remembering what she read, consequently she could converse with me on subjects pertaining to literature for one of her age. We became firm friends, and, while I knew I admired her beauty and good nature, I never loved her never occurred to me, for, like you, I considered that to love once was to love forever, and I believed that my love had been forever. I never saw her again until last April, when I saw her in the city. I saw her in the city. I saw her in the city. I saw her in

 For Co. Coroner, DR. VAN KREVELIN.

"I am of the opinion that the people of this country desire a change; but they want a man on the watch tower who will see that there shall be no interference with what has been accomplished in the past."—GENERAL HANCOCK.

It was not the people of Indiana who declared against the Democratic party, but the people of Indiana who declared for the Democratic party. The people of Indiana who declared for the Democratic party, the people of Indiana who declared for the Democratic party.

The state elections in Indiana and Ohio, which have attracted so much interest throughout the country, took place on the 12th instant and resulted in a republican victory in both states.

Porter, republican, is elected Governor of Indiana by 6000 plurality. Ohio is also republican by 18000 plurality. The vote is the largest ever cast in those States. The republicans also make a gain of several congressmen in both states.

It is asserted however, that Hancock is very popular in both states and that he will undoubtedly carry Indiana by from 4000 to 6000 majority.

Porter takes the steam boat and new and terrible form, driving vessels to port for shelter and threatening to destroy those which were exposed to his ravages. Marine disasters are reported all the way from Duluth to Chicago. The steamer of this is the Chicago and Grand Haven, between Chicago and Grand Haven, with sixty persons on board, passengers and crew. Nothing has been heard of the vessel since the storm, and it is supposed that she has foundered.

THE OLD RAILROAD BOND.

As certain parties have made enquiries of us relative to the old railroad bonds, we copy the following from the constitution of this State, which shows that the people alone can provide for the payment of those bonds. The Legislature has no power to do so.

Section two (2) of article nine (9) of the Constitution provides that no law "fixing a tax, or making provisions for the payment of interest or principal on the bonds denominated 'Minnesota State Railroad Bonds' shall take effect or be in force until such law shall have been submitted to a vote of the people of the State, and adopted by a majority of the electors of the State, voting upon the same. Therefore if the matter ever comes up again it will be, as heretofore, a matter between the people of the State and the bond holder.

A Stupendous Steel.

 John K. Porter, appointed March 10, 1874, referee in the suit of Jose F. Nave.

ro against the city of New York, to obtain payment for water metres which he furnished to the city in the time of the Tweed ring, has made a report to the supreme court dated October 9, 1880. The referee finds that Mr. Nave fulfilled his part of the contract and that the defendants failed to establish any corrupt or fraudulent understanding between them and the commission of public works, or any other officer or agent of the city. The report concludes as follows: "I find that the defendants are indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $100,000 with interest on $285,500, thereof, from the 17 day of September, 1871, and interest on the balance thereof, to wit, $416,500 from the 6 day of July, 1872, which interest to be computed at the rate of seven per cent. per annum down to the 1st day of January, 1880, and at the rate of six per cent. per annum from and after that date such interest so computed, making in the aggregate $415,319.95, and amounting with the principal sum of $700,000, to $1,115,319.95, with costs.

Lakewood Thoughts

A young daughter, Emma, aged about three years, of Mr. Jacob Ottenger, was badly scalded on the back, on the 10th inst., by falling into a bucket full of hot water, which had been got ready for plucking some chickens. The child endured severe sufferings, and immediate remedies were applied, when, after a while, had a soothing effect, and the little one is on the fair road to recovery.

On Sept. 15th is very popular with our Co. Teachers, on account of his social disposition, and general willingness to give counsel and aid wherever and whenever required.

English Bros. threshed 550 bu. wheat and 210 of oats, 96 of barley. Justly thinks oats should have been better. (Chart a Key threshed 200 bushels of wheat [sowed 18 bushels] Key Good!

If the Wagoner could not want to stop my thunder, I would think him to try, at least, to get the facts of the case—in his short account of the "shooting affair" in our midst, he has names most terribly inaccurate. See Herald of 17th inst.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

To THE HONORABLE THE DISTRICT COURT, Eighth Judicial District, County of Carver.

The Grand Jury of the county of Carver, do hereby beg leave to report as follows: FIRST. We have examined the books and files of the County Treasurer's office, and find that they correspond with the books kept by the County Auditor; and to things pertaining to the management of the Treasury office, and the care of the money of the county are in a condition entirely satisfactory.

SECOND. A careful examination of the books and files of the County Auditor's office, satisfies us that the various duties imposed by law upon the County Auditor are discharged in a faithful, competent, and careful manner and that the books and records of that office are skillfully and accurately kept.

THIRD. We find the records and books of the Register's office, and of the Judge of Probate's office, in good order and condition. FOURTH. We have inspected the Jail, and inquired into the condition of the persons imprisoned therein; and find the Jail well and neatly kept, and the prisoners properly treated and cared for.

FIFTH. The Grand Jury desires to commend the County Commissioners for the improvements which have been made in the Court House and about the Court House building.

SIXTH. We earnestly recommend that the County Commissioners at once proceed to erect and finish, in suitable manner, an addition to the west end of the Court House Building, of sufficient dimensions to admit of suitable rooms for Grand and Petit juries therein; and to enlarge the offices in the Court House so as to better meet the convenience of the people of the county. All of which is respectfully submitted. Dated Chaska, Oct. 15th 1880.

Attest: EBERHARD BRAY, Foreman of the Grand Jury, ADAM HILL, Clerk.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.

I, Gustav Krayenbuhl, Clerk of the District Court Eighth Judicial District County of Carver and State of Minnesota do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the report of the Grand Jury on file in my office; and I have carefully compared the same with a true and correct transcript thereof from the minutes and add of said Court at Chaska, A.D. 1880, county, this 18th day of October, A.D. 1880.

G. KRAYENBUHL, Clerk.

Wm. Benson, editor of the Carver Press.

Wm. Benson, editor of the Carver Press, made our office a pleasant call last Wednesday, while in Chaska on business.

There is no political excitement in this county. Everything is quiet. Capt Mills and Mr. Tiffany are each doing a little quiet work for the Senate, otherwise no one would know that an election was to be held this fall. But we expect to see a little more excitement after the legislative nominations have been made.

Conner will properly adjourn Saturday, and then we expect to be able to devote a little more time to the columns of the Herald. We however, take this method of returning our thanks to Geo. A. Du Toit and S. Fowler, for favors in the way of editorial labor during the past three weeks.

SPECIAL OFFER TO SUBSCRIBERS

We have completed arrangements with the publishers of the MINNESOTA FARMER whereby we can furnish that paper and the Herald at the extraordinary low price of $1.65 per year. The Minnesota Farmer is a large eight page paper, containing forty-eight columns, published monthly, and filled with choice reading matter, having a Stacy Agricultural, Dairy, Sheep and Wool Poultry and Home department, with a large amount of miscellaneous matter, except devoted to the varied interests of the north-west. It is a paper worthy of the general support and patronage of the people of this section; and under our special arrangements we can offer it as a premium to every subscriber at the low price above, and in your names.

This offer only applies to cash subscribers.

"I am of the opinion that the people of this country desire a change; but they want union on the watch tower, who will see that there shall be no interference with what has been accomplished in the past."—GENERAL HANCOCK.

It was not the people of Indiana who declared against the Democratic party. It was the people of Indiana who declared themselves all right, and will prepare themselves to go after the party. have gone to register their votes at their residences. GLOBE.

Indiana and Ohio.
The state elections in Indiana and Ohio, which have attracted so much attention throughout the country, took place on the 22nd instant and resulted in a republican victory in both states.

Porter, republican, is elected Governor of Indiana by 6000 plurality. Ohio is also republican by 1800 majority, about the same as last year. The vote is the largest ever cast in those States. The republicans also make a gain of several congressmen in both states.

It is asserted however, that Hancock is very popular in both states and that he will undoubtedly carry Indiana by from 4000 to 5000 majority.

For the sake of the storm, took new and terrible form, driving vessels to port for shelter and threatening or destroying those which were exposed to its ravages. Marine disasters are reported all the way from Duluth to Chicago. The most serious of these is the reported loss of the
building.

THE OLD RAILROAD BOND.
As certain parties have made enquiries of us relative to the old railroad bonds, we copy the following from the constitution of this State, which shows that the people alone can provide for the payment of those bonds. The Legislature has no power to do so.

Section two (2) of article nine (9) of the Constitution provides that "no law imposing a tax, or making provisions for the payment of interest, or principal on the bonds denominated 'Minnesota State Railroad Bonds' shall take effect or be in force until such law shall have been submitted to a vote of the people of the State, and adopted by a majority of the electors of the State, voting upon the same." Therefore if the matter ever comes up again it will be, as heretofore, a matter between the people of the State and the bond holder.

A Stupendous Steel.
From the New York Tribune.
John K. Porter, appointed March 10, 1874, referee in the suit of Joseph F. Noyagainst the city of New York, to obtain payment for water metres which he furnished to the city in the time of the Twentieth Ward, has made a report to the supreme court dated October 9, 1880. The referee finds that Mr. Noyes fulfilled his part of the contract and that the defendants failed to establish any corrupt or fraudulent understanding between him and the commissioners of public works or any other officer or agent of the city. The report concludes as follows: I find that the defendants are indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $700,000 with interest on $285,500 thereof, from the 17th day of September, 1871, and interest on the balance thereof, to wit: $416,500 from the 6th day of July, 1872, which interest to be computed at the rate of seven per cent, per annum down to the 1st day of January, 1880, and at the rate of six per cent, per annum from and after that date such interest as computed, making in the aggregate $416, 319.95, and summing with the principal sum of $700,000, to $1,116,319.95, with costs.

Lakota Thoughts

A young daughter, Emma, aged about three years, of Mr. Jacob Ottenger, was lately scalded on the back, on the 10th inst., by falling into a bucket full of hot water, which had been got ready for fluck-ing some chickens. The child endured severe sufferings, and immediate remedies were applied, which, after a while, had a soothing effect, and the little one is on the way to recovery.

On Sept. 15th is very popular with all our Co. Teachers, on account of his social disposition, and general willingness to give counsel and aid wherever and whenever required.
Englishhardt Bros. threshed 350 bushels wheat and 216 bushels of barley. They justly think so, as they have been rewarded. Chas. A. Krey threshed 250 bushels wheat (sowed 9 bushels) and 320 bushels wheat (sowed 13 bushels). Krey threshed 15 bushels of wheat.

If the Wabasha correspondents want to start my thunder, I would think, but to try, at least, to get the facts of the case in his short account of the "shooting star" in our midst, he has named most terribly inaccurate. See Herald of 7th inst.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

To His Honor, the District Court, Eighth Judicial District, County of Carver.

The Grand Jury of the county of Carver stored in the report as follows: FIRST. We have examined the books and records of the County Treasurer's office, and find that they correspond with the books kept by the County Auditor, and find that the things pertaining to the management of the Treasurer's office, and the care of the funds of the county are in a condition entirely satisfactory.

SECOND. A careful examination of the books and records of the County Auditor office satisfies us that the various duties imposed by law upon the County Auditor are discharged in a faithful, correct and careful manner and that the books and records of that office are skillfully and accurately kept.

THIRD. We find the records and books of the Register's office, and of the Judge of Probate's office in good order and condition.

FOURTH. We have inspected the Jail, and inquired into the condition of the prisoners imprisoned therein; and find the Jail well and neatly kept and the prisoners properly treated and cared for.

FIFTH. The Grand Jury desires to commend the County Commissioners for the improvements which have been made in the
building.

SIXTH. We earnestly recommend that the County Commissioners at once proceed to erect and finish, in suitable manner, an addition to the west end of the Court House Building, of sufficient dimensions to admit of suitable rooms for Grand and Petit juries therein; and to enlarge the offices in the Court House so as to better meet the convenience of the people of the county.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Attest:
EUGENE B. DRAV,
Foreman of the Grand Jury.
ADAM HILL, Clerk.

I, Gustave Kravenbuhl, Clerk of the District Court Eighth Judicial District, County of Carver and State of Minnesota do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the report of the Grand Jury on file in my office; that I have originally and that the same is a true and correct transcript thereof. Witness my hand and seal of said Court at Chaska in said county, this 15th day of October, A. D. 1880.
G. KRAVENBUHL,
Clerk.

Win. Benson, editor of the Carver Press, made our office a pleasant call last Wednesday, while in Chaska on business.

There is no political excitement in this county. Everything is quiet. Capt Mills and Mr. Tiffany are each doing a little quiet work for the Senate, otherwise no one would know that an election was to be held this fall. But we expect to see a little more excitement after the legislative nominations have been made.

Court will probably adjourn Saturday, and then we expect to be able to devote a little more time to the columns of the HERALD. We however, take this method of returning our thanks to Geo. A. Du-toit and S. Fowler, for favors in the way of editorial labor during the past three weeks.

SALE OF STATE LANDS.

St. Paul, September 6, 1880.

N. is hereby given that the County Auditor will offer at public sale, on the terms provided by law, all the school lands that have been appraised and are unsold in Carver County, at his office in Chaska on Saturday, October 30th, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Except the lands to be offered may be seen at the Auditor's office for two weeks prior to the sale.

All lands heretofore sold upon which the interested parties have for more than one year will be re-sold.

O. P. WHITCOMB,
Commissioner State Land Office.

Notice of Mortgage Sale

Names of Mortgages—James K. Black-etter and Samantha Blacketter, his wife.
Name of Mortgagee—E. B. Campbell.
Mortgage dated December 1st 1879 and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Carver and State of Minnesota, on the 23rd day of December 1879 in book "1" of Mortgages on pages 234 and 235.

The amount claimed to be due and that is included in an affidavit filed of record five dollars and six cents, and the sum of one thousand and one hundred and twenty one dollars. The land and premises covered by said mortgage are described as follows to wit:

The east half of the north east quarter of section twelve (12) township six north and seventeen (17) range twenty six in the County of Carver and State of Minnesota.
And whereas default has been made in the conditions of said mortgage, and no proceeding at law or otherwise have been had or instituted to recover the debt or any part thereof secured thereby.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a deed to be made and recorded by the Sheriff of said County at the front door of the Court House in the Village of Chaska in said County of Carver and State of Minnesota on Saturday the 15th day of November next at 10 o'clock a. m. in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage and costs and expenses of foreclosure and sale.

Dated Chaska Sept. 30th 1880.

W. C. ODELL, Att'y for Mortgagee.

Prof. DeMorse and Wife have taken quarters for the winter at the Sargent Home.

Our friend F. J. Toback formerly of the country is running as an independent candidate for County Auditor in Le Sueur County.

Dr. Jones of Carver was calling on his friends in Chaska on Wednesday.

The weather is moderating and we are hoping to have two weeks fine weather yet.

Court adjourned last Saturday noon and met again Monday morning. A special verdict for 13 jurors to serve during the remainder of the term, was ordered issued by the Judge and placed in Sheriff DuToit's hands on Monday.

The following cases have been disposed of since our last issue.

The jury returned a verdict of "guilty" in the case of the State of Minnesota vs.

Albert Kusloski. He will be sentenced on Friday.

Edward Emmitt, the Carver safe burglar, was brought into court Monday for trial and very unexpectedly plead "guilty."

He will also receive his sentence on Friday.

The case of the State of Minnesota vs.

Peter Oberg, for defacing a grave, was tried on Tuesday and the jury returned a verdict "not guilty."

The jury in the case of the State of Minnesota vs. John W. Gregg, on Monday and after being out over 15 hours, came into court and stated they could not agree and were discharged by the Judge.

A jury was also empaneled in the case of the Hastings and Dakota Railroad against John Pflieger, in regard to award of damages, on Tuesday and the Sheriff took the jury over the premises. The case is now being tried.

The jury in the above case rendered a verdict in favor of Mr. Pflieger and against the H. & D. company for $1400.

The case of A. Rodier vs. H. Koglin, is now on trial, and will occupy the whole day.

Court will probably adjourn to morrow evening.

The Court House.

It will be seen by reading the report of the Grand Jury, which we publish in another column of this issue, that, that very emphatically recommend the building of an extension wing on the west end of the Court House, and ed on the board of County Commissioners to see that their recommendation is carried out on an early day. Everybody consent with the business of the county have for long time seen the necessity of the want of more room, not only on account of the jury rooms, but for County Officers. A wing of sufficient size to properly accommodate the Grand and Petit Jurors and enlarge ment of the County Office can be built and fully completed for about $2500.

We hope our Board of Commissioners will consider the matter at their next session and take such steps as will secure the building of the extension as early as spring as the weather will permit.

Not Completed.

The bridge between Chaska and Carver is not completed. In fact we believe it is not even commenced. May we enquire why this is thus?

Row.

On Sunday evening last a row occurred in one of the saloons in town. In the af-ray one of the fighting parties used a beer glass on the head of another and smashed the glass into smithereens.

These occurrences are becoming too frequent, and some of these days we shall begin to publish the names of the persons taking part in them.

FOUND! LOST!!

A. L. DuToit of this office found a large leather pocket book containing a small sum of money. The owner can have the same by coming forward proving property and paying charges of this notice.

We publish the republican state and county ticket this week, for the benefit of our republican readers. We have been requested to do so, and cheerfully comply.

Not For Pennsylvanians.

Our young friend Jacob Engelhart, for a number of years past a resident of Laketown, left for his old home in Butler, Pa.

on Monday, last Monday, which will be his home for a number of years to come. Mr.

E. has made a large number of friends during his stay in this county, who all join us, in wishing him health and prosperity on the old "homestead."

Here and There.

Another turn in the weather.

Get ready for cold weather.

Mrs. F. E. DuToit, is slowly improving.

Rabbits are plenty and our sportsmen are having a fine time "bagging" them.

Mathias Zimmer and the trustees of the Catholic Church have just finished a neat picket fence in front of their premises.

Sheriff DuToit reports having seen Peter

Witz and Henry Van Elsen, in the State Prison, and reports them as being healthy and they wished to be remembered to their friends in this country.

John Lebus, has a lot of horse blankets on hand which he offers to his customers very cheap for cash. Call and see.

Apples are very cheap this fall only 75 cents a bushel at Youngs.

P. H. Finnegan machine agent of Norwood and Chaska, sold and delivered a 16 horse power Cooper Engine and circular saw mill to Mike and Burtz, of Green Lake, last week.

It is said to be the best saw mill sold in this country.

Mr. Finnegan also sold a Marsh Cord

Binder to Henry Hoffken, of Benton.

This is the first order for next seasons sale.

Joseph Delsing, is building a handsome new picket fence around his new residence.

Philip Meyer, is painting his new residence, and otherwise improving his surrounding property. He has a nice home now and we congratulate him.

Mrs. H. Young has received a fine assortment of Ladies and Misses Hoods and Scarfs. Don't forget they are the latest style.

Cultivated Cranberries at Youngs.

We are under many obligations to Jos.

Franken and W. C. Odell, for a number of fine ducks, of their own bagging.

MONTHLY FAIR.

Next Saturday is the regular Monthly Fair day in Chaska, and it promises to be a big affair. Farmers have finished plowing and will be in the town en masse.

Turnout every one and make this the biggest fair of the season.

The Wheat Market.

Farmers have been rushing wheat into our market quite lively this week. It brought from 90 to 92 cents per bushel.

Chaska is now recognized as one of the very best wheat markets in the State.

Gov. C. K. Davis.

The Hon. C. K. Davis, of St. Paul, is announced to speak in Chaska, Saturday afternoon, October 30. Gov. Davis is the most eloquent speaker in the republican party, and should have a large audience.

CONVICTED TO STILLWATER.

Sheriff DuToit and Deputy Sheriff Logelin, took Edward Emmett and Albert Kosloski to Stillwater Penitentiary last Friday evening, after the adjournment of Court; they reached Stillwater Saturday at 10 o' clock. Kosloski was assigned work in the blacksmith shop and Emmett in the carpenter department.

PRISONERS SENTENCED.

Edward Emmett, the Carver safe breaker, and Albert Kosloski, found guilty of an "assault with a dangerous weapon, with intent to do great bodily harm" were brought into court last Friday to receive their sentence. Emmett was promptly sentenced to a three years term in the State Prison. In imposing a sentence of four years in the Penitentiary on Kosloski, the Judge reviewed the testimony very fully, saying that the nature of the assault would warrant him in imposing the full penalty provided by law, five years.

Thos. Mitchell.

Thos. Mitchell, the person shot by Marshall Logelin, in this town some two months ago while resisting arrest, has been hauled up before the municipal court in St. Paul, for stealing a ladies handkerchief on the streets of St. Paul. He was fined $25 and costs. This is the second or third time he has been before the courts since his Chaska "escape."

3RD REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.

Waconia Oct. 26, 1880.

To the voters of the Third Representative District.

Having been nominated as Representative at the Democratic convention held at Waconia, Oct. 23rd, I most respectfully accept the nomination, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. I assure my friends that if elected I will seek to promote the best interest of my constituents and my district at large.

A. ED KAEDER.

Funeral.

The funeral of Christian Poppitz, father of Ernst Poppitz, at the residence of the latter, last week, was very largely attended, especially by old settlers. Mr. P. was upwards of 87 years of age and greatly respected.

Fred J. Tuttle, editor and publisher of the Orionville Star, dropped in to see us a few moments this morning while on his way home from a business trip to the dual cities. He reports things flourishing in and about Orionville.
